1 Applicants who apply for Rural or Equity entry must have submitted their eligibility form to Curtin Medical School for these entry pathways by 28 September 2018. Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander applicants must apply directly to Curtin Centre for Aboriginal Studies (CAS) by 28 September 2018.

2 This prediction, along with performance in the UMAT, will be used to determine whether a student may be invited to an interview before the actual academic results are available. In the final decisions about selection, the actual academic results will always be used. Students whose predicted academic result is below the admissions threshold, but whose actual academic result is at or above the threshold, will be eligible to be considered for interview in January, provided they have also met the minimum UMAT threshold and have passed Chemistry ATAR.
